Build Your Career with Confidence and Resilience

Hear from our MacRob alumni on building successful business careers across both the highs and lows. This is your opportunity to ask about negotiating a pay rise, how to ask for that well deserved promotion, and building resilience to face challenges across your career.

Karin Lorenzon, Director, The Lorenzon Group - Karin coaches executives and individuals to understand and communicate their overall value proposition and build their confidence in the employment market. She has held senior roles with Rio Tinto Australia and PwC, in graduate recruitment, career development, performance management, employee engagement, diversity and corporate responsibility. Karin is on the board of Conservation Volunteers Australia with past board positions including the Board of the Graduate Careers Council of Australia and President of the Australian Association of Graduate Employers.

Kirsty White - (nee Barker), Talent & Leadership Development Professional - Siemens Ltd.

Kirsty has held roles from economist through to general management, to now learning and development specialist and life coach. Her career has been full of challenges and opportunities, from parental leave and when made redundant from a position she loved. Kirsty has held roles including General Manager Human Resources & Operations at the Department of Transport and Divisional Business Manager at the Department for Victorian Communities.

Vicky Papachristos, Non-Executive Director and Marketing Consultant - Vicky has spent over 25 years as an executive with major corporations as well as start-ups both domestically and internationally. She runs her own marketing consultancy – Currant Marketing – and is involved in several business ventures and committees including Scale Investors - a female led angel investment group investing only in female entrepreneurs. Vicky's Board career includes eftpos Payments Limited, GMHBA Private Health Insurance, Coventry Group Limited, Chairman of Mt Baw Baw Alpine Resort as well as a member of the Alpine Resorts Coordinating Council.
